Pleased to report that the inaugural Make-A-Wish Central Sydney Car Show was a resounding success.

Held on Sunday August 28th at the historic Rosebery Engine Works, the event attracted over 130 cars of all makes, types and models. These ranged from Rolls-Royces from the 1920s, post war saloons and sports cars, modern day exotica through to raucous dragsters.

The event itself was organised by Emma Levy and her father Bryan Levy, an enthusiastic AHOC club member.

The basis behind the event was to raise funds to support the Make-A-Wish Foundation and Emma and Bryan were thrilled to advise that the day raised over $22,000.

AHOC members did not neglect the event with a total of nine Austin-Healeys on display. These included:-

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Once again Louise and I are in England. I suspect it is true for all grandparents, but we just can't resist the opportunity of spending time with our grand-daughters.

So we are in England and of course as the AHOC President I've once again tried to make contact with an Austin-Healey club or two over here. Their meetings are often called 'noggin and natter' and, being England the venue is usually a good pub (of which there are still a great many). Now a noggin is always welcome and a natter to Austin-Healey fans is always going to be interesting so I scoured the Internet and found those reasonably local to where we would be.

Sadly, the northern meetings all seemed to be timed for when we were in the South, and vice versa, so although we did exchange fraternal emails, I'm afraid that I have nothing to report about the Austin-Healey scene in England. That was going to provide the subject matter for at least this report, and maybe more, but it was not to be.

While on the subject of missing things, like many of you I was disappointed to read that this year's 'All British Day' had to be cancelled due to the waterlogged nature of the Kings School fields. However, our club members are not ones to let a little cancellation spoil the possibility of a party.

Russell Kelly started the ball rolling. So, with a little assistance from Patrick Quinn and vocal (and email) support from a lot of members, we are going to have our own All British Day on the 11th September, so come and join us at Fagan Park. I'm sure that you will find the details elsewhere in this Flat Chat (see page 9).

Gordon Lynas – 0403 198 343 – gordonl@aussiebb.com.au

If any of you have other classic British cars, maybe you could bring those to make it a mini (no pun intended) all British day? Hope to see you there,

Happy Healeying,

Gordon

Greetings and welcome to the September 2022 issue of the Flat Chat Newsletter.

Before I get into all the good stuff in this issue, I will let those past members of the AHOC know that if they have not renewed their membership this will be the last issue of the Flat Chat Newsletter they will see. It would have happened a month back, but as our Membership Secretary is overseas, I don't know the final detail of who has or has not renewed.

We start this issue with a round-up of the Make-A-Wish Car Show held on 28 August. Organised by AHOC member Bryan Levy and daughter Emma, it was a resounding success, and I am please to report that the event was well supported by club members.

If you were at August's Central Coast workshop you can find a report on this continually well supported gathering on page 8.

A couple of weeks back I sent out an all points email alerting everyone of the cancellation of this year's All British Day on 11th September. Going on the number of responses, many members were not happy with the news as surely this event is something to look forward to. So left with a space in the calendar it was highly satisfying to hear from Russel Kelly that he and Carol were prepared to organise a club run. You can read all about it on page 9. Simultaneously Greg Poole from Bathurst way, is organising a run starting on Friday the 16th of September and you can read about that on page 11.

All this and a wonderful article from Ronnie Strange starting on page 15. No it's not just a collection of Ron's unique words, but an exhibition of paintings that he has done over the years. Yes there is at least one car in each and you will never guess the marque. Thank you Ronnie.

There are also articles on the present whereabouts of Larke Hoskins, photos of cars on display in Warwick, UK and a somewhat contrasting sale of two Austin-Healeys in the US.

It's out! A week or so back Neville Stirton and I decided to stop looking at the engine of the Quinn Austin-Healey and that it was time for it to come out. Yes removing the six-cylinder through a 100 bonnet opening is a challenge, but with some last minute sump removal, while the whole thing dangled in the air, out it came. It's now sitting on the floor and will soon be taken away for attention.

So to make me feel as I am doing something useful I turned my attention towards the indicator/horn boss. Pulled this apart many years back and then spent hours scanning the garage floor looking for bits. Now a bit wiser, it came apart, was cleaned and reassembled. Then through a combination of wet/dry paper, steel wool, Indian Ink and black shoe polish, the Bakelite was returned to a proper lustre and the indicator lever repainted. It still works too.

Trust, you enjoy this issue of the Flat Chat Newsletter, and I look forward to receiving your words and photos for the October issue.

Highfield Gardens has been featured on TV, newspapers and in many books. Some examples include Better Homes and Gardens, the front cover image and extensive inside feature in the book by Claire Takacs 'Australian Dreamscapes' as well as other publications and media.

This large garden is still being extended to include formal gardens and a potager.

There are many garden rooms within the gardens including the Dry Garden, Prairie Garden, Birch Grove, Rock Garden/Water Garden with two waterfalls, The long border (AKA Barry Manilow border) and single-coloured borders. This is an all season garden filled with many unusual plants and trees. Highfields Garden profiles a new trend of no water gardens where plants are watered till established and beyond that, survive on rain only.

Historic Vehicle Registration News

If you have a car on Historic Vehicle Registration you should read this.

When this issue of Flat Chat is completed and arrived in an inbox near you it will be time to contact all those immediate past members who no doubt think that their car is conditionally registered.

I have said it before that Transport for NSW requires that for a car to be conditionally registered its owner must be a member of a recognised historic vehicle club. Of course, the AHOC is one such club.

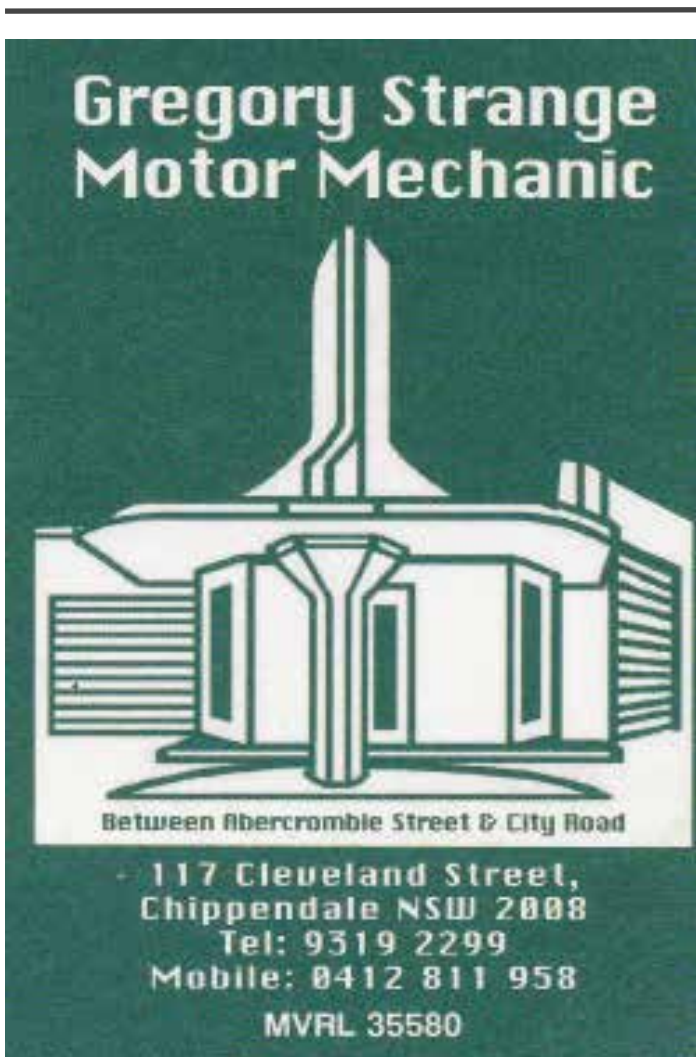

Those who have not renewed their membership with the AHOC will be hearing from me advising them that their car is no longer registered. No skin off my nose, because if you get pulled over and I subsequently get asked if you were a member on the day I will of course provide the truthful answer. You can choose to continue the registration of your vehicle through another historic vehicle club. That's your business.

Over the last month there have been a few members who have let their registration lapse and have been required to recommence the registration entirely. That means that in addition to the steps below you also have to complete the Application for Conditional Registration and hand in your plates and receive a new set after paying the cost.

- Once you have received the renewal from Transport for NSW, arrange for your vehicle to be inspected for roadworthiness by either an Authorised Inspection Station or one of the volunteer AHOC inspection officers. See page 2 of this Flat Chat for their contact details. Remember all vehicles, including Historic vehicles need to be inspected and passed as roadworthy.
- Complete the left-hand side of the "Historic Vehicle Declaration" and post it to me at my home address (See page 2 of this Flat Chat for my address) along with an indication that your car is roadworthy or a copy of the pink slip. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope. There is no need to send me the registration certificate. Do not post me the documents by Registered Post as that just slows down the process as I have to go to the post office to accept a registered postal item.
- Once returned, either go to your local Services NSW office to do the renewal or post to Transport for NSW in Parkes. That address can be found on the registration papers.

PLEASE DON'T FORGET THE STAMPED SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE.

Central Coast Chapter News

Saturday Workshop - August 6th

Once again, it was a fine sunny Saturday morning for our Central Coast workshop. It was well attended with 16 Austin-Healey enthusiasts all ready to get their hands dirty.

The hoist got a workout with Lew McAllan's newly purchased MK1 BN7 having a once over. Good to see Chris Jenkins also there in his re-engined Mk1 BT7.

Geoff Smith was responsible for the very successful rebuild which sounded fantastic. Well done!. This just goes to show the Saturday Morning Workshops are really working and ensuring our cars are well serviced and maintained. We had a first-time visitor to our workshop as well, a friend of Julie and Garry Lee so welcome Kaye Parker.

The morning's activities were varied with servicing on the hoist, starting up newly refurbished engines and push starting old 100s with cranky starter motors and lazy batteries.

We even had a shoelace tying demonstration plus of course our usual coffee, cookies and cake to finish the event.

Attendees were Helen Vance and Adam Lethlean MK1 BN7, Mark McAllan BJ8, Lew McAllan Mk1 BN7, Doug Ross BJ7, Julie Lee and Kaye Parker BJ8, Ian and Jennie Richter, Roger Ramsey, Chris Jenkins MK1 BT7, Scott Parry-Jones 100/6 BN4, Neil and Kaye Janes, Kerrie and Col Rule 100 BN2.

Next Workshop will be the 3rd of September starting time 9am. Graham Healey will be our guest speaker, so all are welcome to join us here on the Central Coast. A BYO barbecue lunch will follow (Bring your own meat and salad or sweet to share) and don't forget to bring cookies and cake for morning tea which we will have before the talk.

All the best and Happy Healeying. Col and Kerrie Rule.

Meet at 9.30am at the carpark of the Bull & Bush Hotel, 378 Windsor Rd, Baulkham Hills NSW 2153 for a 10am start. Attendees will be provided with a map of the run.

Destination

Fagan Park 38-48 Arcadia Rd, Galston NSW 2159 via Windsor Road - Chelsea Ave – Old Northern Road – Galston Road.

Fagan Park – Features

- The Gardens of Many Nations, which covers 10 hectares with 11 themed gardens, including Japanese, Dutch, Chinese and Mediterranean.
- Learn about local history at Netherby Cottage, the original Fagan family homestead, and the adjoining museum.
- Enjoy local bushland along a short bush-walking trail.
- Dogs are welcome, however they must remain on a lead at all times.
- Picnic or barbecue facilities with shelters and electric barbecues ($1 coins) scattered throughout the grounds.

A Little History

Fagan Park stands on land which was part of the original grant to George Hall. The land was purchased by the Fagan family and developed as a citrus orchard.

Following the death of Samuel Fagan, the ownership of the land changed to his son, Bruce Fagan, who was renowned for the high-quality jersey cattle he ran on the property. In June 1977, Bruce Fagan approached the Shire President and Shire Clerk of Hornsby Shire Council to discuss the future use of the property as a recreational and cultural centre to perpetuate the Fagan family name.

A deed of gift to donate the property to the Crown under Hornsby Shire Council's care, control and management was executed on 22 November and 6 December 1979. Council assumed full responsibility for the property on 15 February 1983. Prior to his death in August 1984, Bruce Fagan signed a concept development plan for the site.

Thank you to Russell Kelly for organising the run and through his connections with the Friends of Fagan Park they are happy to have the AHOC visit the park on 11th September. Our visits coincides with the opening of the Park's Heritage area which will be open on that day from 1pm to 4pm.

Please bring a picnic lunch or your favourite BBQ ingredients. AHOC members are asked to consider a donation to the Friends of Fagan Park.

Should you wish to know more please contact:-

Central-West Chapter News Run - 16th September

Great to see the AHOC's fledgling Central-West Chapter are moving full steam on planning events and are inviting all members to attend.

Greg Poole is planning a run on Friday 16th September. Greg writes that he and other local members are very keen to see some Sydneysiders and other members join in on the fun.

The plan is to meet at 09:30am on the 16th (for a 10:00 departure) from the National Motor Racing Museum, followed by the obligatory run around the Mountain and then onwards. Run route will be finalized before then.

Greg says that it would be wonderful if other members could spend a couple of days with them and there's no end of accommodation in and around Bathurst; ranging from well affordable (eg 'Victoria Hotel' adjacent to the station) to the somewhat expensive ('Rydges' on the circuit). And it doesn't snow in Bathurst!

Friday night will see dining in Bathurst and for those staying overnight there will be an easy run on Saturday, to the historic town of Millthorpe or thereabouts. Should visitors like a further run on Sunday it can be arranged.

Understandably Greg needs numbers promptly so that the necessary arrangements can be made.

For those interested Greg can be contacted on (02) 5355-0079 or email to kerripoole1@optusnet.com.au

PURPLE HAZE – CHARLIE’S RUN 2022

In 2018 Charlie’s regulars will recall that we went north and had a lovely time meeting fellow Queensland and Northern NSW members at Inverell and Dorrigo. Over a glass or two of wine one evening on that trip, it was suggested that it would be great if one year Charlie’s Run was to visit the Grafton Jacaranda Festival. This is an event that a select group of northern members have made a fixture in their calendar for a number of years. As they recommended it so highly, this year you have the opportunity to join them to enjoy the oldest floral festival in Australia.

This year, the Festival is being held from 28 October to 6 November, although we will be visiting for only a few of those days. As usual we will take a relaxed tour both to get there and to return. Our provisional schedule is as follows:

Wednesday, 2 November –
travel to Gloucester.

Thursday, 3 November –
Gloucester to Armidale via Thunderbolt’s Way.

Friday, 4 November – arrive at Grafton and meet with the northerners.

Saturday and Sunday, 5 & 6 November – at Grafton to enjoy the festivities.

Monday, 7 November – depart Grafton for Port Macquarie.

Tuesday, 8 November – overnight at Tea Gardens

Wednesday, 9 November –
Home.

This should mean that we will driving for around three hours each day leaving time for a leisurely lunch and to have a stroll around town each afternoon.

The cost of this run will be around $550 per room for seven nights’ accommodation. As we have limited numbers this year, we can take advantage of some smaller towns and motels, however these generally don’t have restaurants attached. Hence meals will be for you to decide at each location, although I suspect that our northern contingent will at least be able to provide good advice of where to eat. I suspect that we will probably organise a BBQ or such like for at least one of our Grafton evenings.

The Festival is very popular and accommodation is limited so don’t delay in booking your place. To do so, email or call Gordon (gordonl@aussiebb.com.au, or 0403 198 343) and don’t forget to pay your deposit of $50 per person to the club by electronic funds transfer, including your name and reference ‘Jacaranda’.

If you can’t add a text reference, most banks will allow you to add a numeric reference so please use your club membership number or, if you don’t know that, your Postcode, to help me identify your payment.

If you are not able to make an electronic funds transfer, please deposit a cheque at your local Westpac bank payable to the Austin-Healey Owners Club NSW account detailed below and let Gordon know that you have done so by email or phone.

Austin-Healeys on Canvas

By Ronnie Strange

I'll always remember my first piece of artwork, because I was told by Philippa Judd that it was good. It was a drawing of a road curving around a hillside with roadside posts following the curve. No cars! I was in love with Miss, but at the age of about 25, she was three times my age. She was my teacher.

Apart from that memorable day in class, my only other recollection of school was getting there early and playing cricket before, during and after school. No other subjects entered or have remained in my head, apart from Rugby League where I somehow represented Illawarra twice, a couple of years later, where we played some bushrangers in some distant

Exhibit I

Sometime in 2006, a night when my wife and daughter for some reason attended a Pilates class nearby and enjoyed it so much they have of course never made the same mistake again and never since darkened the doors of that establishment.

That night while they were out and for no particular reason I can recall, I drew a sketch of the many places we had been to and had lived in over the years and which at one place included at last.....some Austin-Healeys.

My very first piece of art since I was eight, was from the abovementioned sketch in 2006 which features our street in Stanmore, Middlesex, our 18th century cottage at the end of the row of ten with my two, towns off in the never never where it was very cold and your toothpaste didn't work. I expect the locals have anti-freeze in their toothpaste, and that would explain a lot!

What about Austin-Healeys you ask, well, an artwork drought period commenced in 1948 and lasted until 2006. During that short timespan other things got in the way of my artistic career and interfered with my dubious talent (true is I never gave it another thought) However I bought an Austin-Healey in 1976 and it later appeared in some of my paintings..... So there!

before and after re-coloured Austin-Healeys outside. Also shown you will see, Tangier, Dieppe, London, Sydney and Banjul, all cobbled together with our two Standard Poodles Stan and Louis and a bloke on his way to the synagogue, I thought it would be an interesting painting.

My artist neighbour wouldn't do it, too complicated she said, do it yourself. The local art and framing shop said the same thing, so I did.

I have enjoyed painting over the years and after a recent protracted absence, started painting again and have of course included some more Austin-Healeys.

Paysage Suburbain Enrichie is how I describe my paintings.

Canvas Cont'Exhibit II

The painting of North Sydney Post Office showing civilian cars and featuring an Austin-Healey was done mid-2000s, (best viewed from a distance) and appears to be driven by a bloke with big arms, he should have taken my place in the Illawarra team all those years ago although he may have exceeded the six-stone seven-pound weight limit.

Exhibit III

I can see an improvement in my paintings over the years and the most recent works from 2021/22 can even stand close scrutiny.

I'm particularly happy with the painting of North-bridge with the three cars crossing. How fortunate was I to be there in the right place at the right time to see that!

Canvas Cont'

Exhibit IV

Unfortunately, in a recent painting the car is obscured while parked outside Neutral Bay wharf by pedestrian traffic and a useless ex-politician.

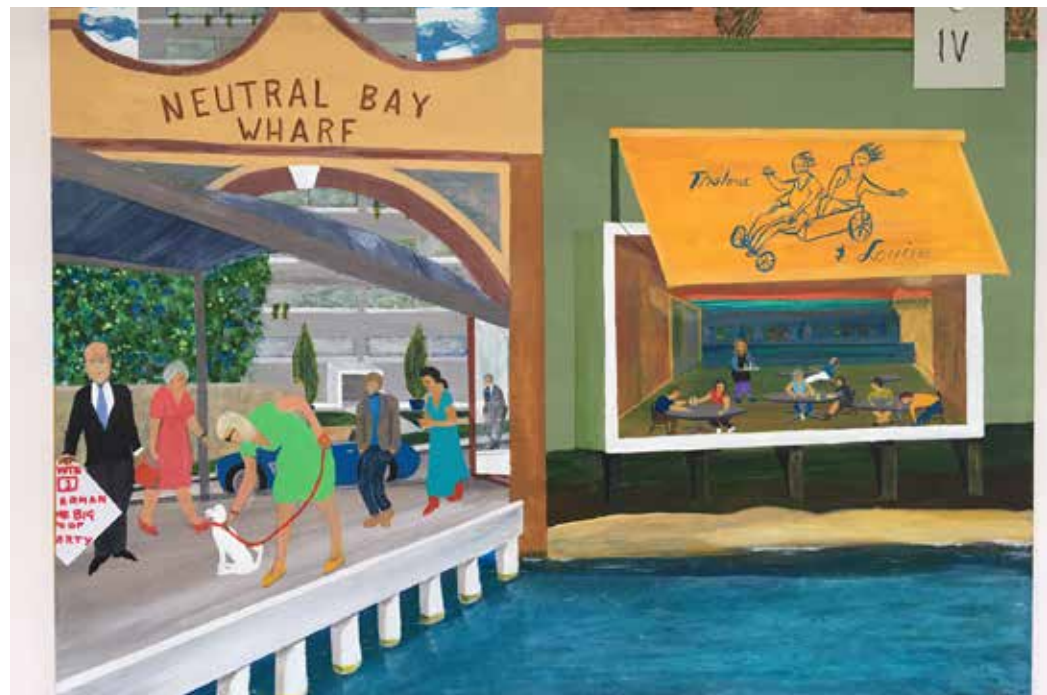

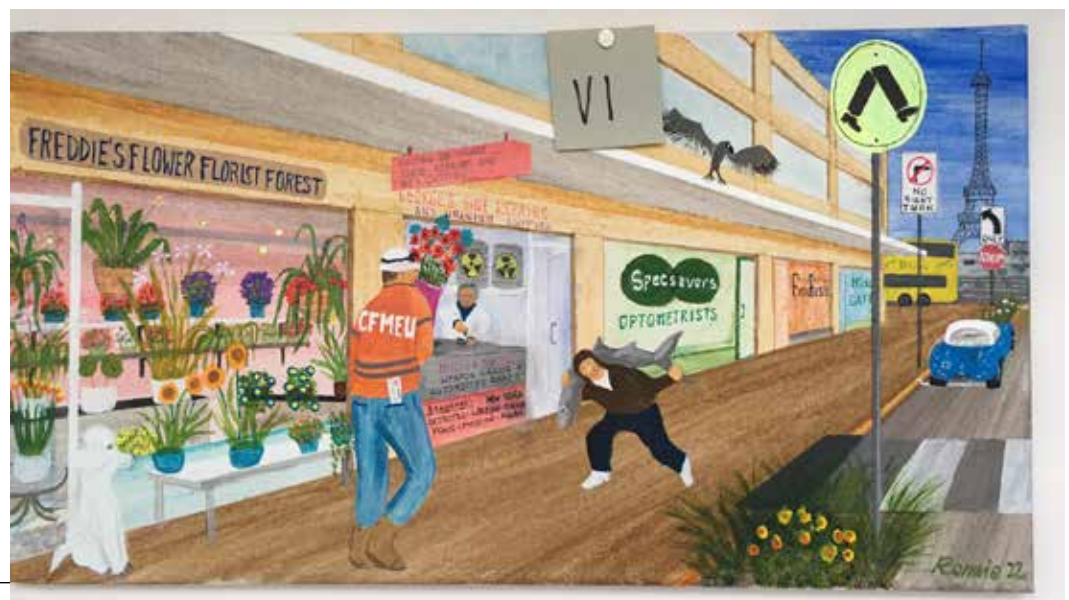

Exhibit V

Another painting shows three Austin-Healeys who accidentally monstered a Mercedes outside Petbarn. The cars aren't as well behaved as the animals in the picture.

Exhibit VI

I've been instructed not to paint any more cars: paint flowers (whatever they are) or people. Something other than buildings and roads so of course I painted hundreds of flowers at the local florist and included some nice people which unfortunately also happens to be on a road and naturally an Austin-Healey happens to be parked nearby.

Exhibit VII

The green and blue Austin-Healey in the other North Sydney painting is in trouble. That's what happens if you go the wrong way on Berry Street. you get shot by the granddaughter of Flynn the Eskimo who borrowed my car for the day.

Exhibit VIII

Storm brewing over North Sydney and the school crossing. The red car is being driven by the granddaughter of Gypsy Rose Lee and Ensor Ferrari.

Unforgettable memories...

Larke Hoskins Not Gone – Not Forgotten

By Patrick Quinn

We were on the way to attend a funeral at Rookwood, and of course took the wrong turn so ended up heading west along Parramatta Road.

Like so much of Parramatta Road we were passing through an avenue of car sale showrooms and yards.

‘Quick darling, grab the phone and take a photo of the sign over there!’ I said.

Luckily the traffic came to a stop, so it was easy to take the photo.

“That sign over there that says ‘Larke Hoskins’”. I responded.

I’m sure Caroline was wondering why I wanted a photo of a building hoarding, but she understood when I briefly explained what or who were/are Larke Hoskins.

If you have an Austin-Healey 100 and 100/6 in NSW and elsewhere in Australia there’s a good chance that in its early days in Australia it passed through the hands of Larke Hoskins, as they were the NSW distributor for Austin vehicles.

A few years back one of our members was a gentleman by the name of Jim Neave with a BN2. Jim spent most of his working career in the automotive industry and at a club meeting in 2013 he gave us a most enjoyable talk about his experiences.

Jim started out by letting us know that the Neave family was involved in Larke Neave and Carter and Larke Hoskins, and the family had been involved in the motor industry since the 1930s. They were successful with the importing of Austin cars from the UK for distribution in this state. In 1946 the Federal government offered Austin £10,000,000 to set up in this country, the same offer they did with General Motors. The arrangement that went around was that the UK would buy Australia’s wheat and wool, while Australia would buy Austin cars. In 1946 Larke Hoskins set up to manufacture the Austin A40 in the Sydney suburb of Camperdown. That facility quickly wasn’t big enough so it was moved to the cycle track in Riley Street, Sydney. That too soon became too small, so Jim’s father went to England on a converted Lancaster bomber and bought three demountable aircraft hangers and erected them up in Cosgrove Road, Enfield. That facility became known as Pressed Metal Corporation.

Austins were arriving in Australia in CKD form and in the late 1940s and early ‘50s there was a big demand for commercial vehicles in Australia, but Austin in the UK just weren’t interested in this end of the market. At Larke Hoskins they designed a utility style body, but they struck a problem with making the press to form the panels. What they did was make the dies out of hardened timber with case-hardened edging. It wasn't long before Austin saw (no pun intended) the demand and had dies made from steel.

In addition to the A40, Larke Hoskins also assembled the Austin champ, before they moved onto assembling Land Rovers for the domestic market and the Australian Army. They even assembled a few rover P3s. Distribution was through Larke, Neave and Carter that ended up as LNC Industries that would also sell Volkswagens through its Lannock Motors subsidiary.

One thing that Larke Hoskins was given to do was to fit plaques or plates to the firewall and I would think that most would have seen examples of these.

Apart from the name, I don't know if the modern day Larke Hoskins has any association with the Larke Hoskins of old. However, from the website I can say that they have outlets as Lidcombe, Homebush and Zetland. They offer servicing, used car sales, new Ssangyong sales, Hankook tyre sales and no doubt many other things. Sadly they do not have any sales records going back to the 1950s. PLUS they paid me absolutely nothing for this free ad.

To the left is part of his framed trading card collection that he has kindly photographed and sent in for us all to enjoy.

Should Alan's collection ignite a spark in any member you might like to give him a call (see page 2) or start looking through such sites as eBay.

Spot the Austin-Healey

I would have thought this one is a little easier, but when and where do you think the photo was taken?

As to a date I would say the late 1950s or early '60s.

It's certainly is a 100/6, but where is interesting as printed on one of the overhead awnings is the sign Baden-Powell House which used to be located at 265 George Street, Sydney.

What's at 265 George Street today?
Australia Square.
